

Insurance Litigation

Lindsay Hart, LLP devotes a substantial portion of its practice to the representation of insurance companies and their insureds. We serve insurance carriers, third party administrators and self-insured entities in coverage litigation, first party breach of contract actions and bad faith lawsuits.

Our attorneys understand the intricacies of Oregon and Washington law in evaluating insurance coverage issues, as we practice extensively in both states.

We serve insurance companies and their policy holders in all areas, including:

- Commercial
- Automobile
- Products Liability
- Medical Malpractice
- Professional Liability

We are approved counsel for a number of major insurers and claim administration companies with whom we coordinate a defense strategy, seeking cost effective yet aggressive solutions in all insurance defense matters. Lindsay Hart attorneys also help draft insurance policies, insurance producer agreements, premium finance agreements and other critical business documents. We provide coverage analysis and recommendations to avoid costly litigation.
